

Dear (MP's name)

On December 30, Prime Minister Stephen Harper asked Governor General Michaëlle Jean to prorogue the House of Commons.

I feel that this step, the second prorogation in a year, does not reflect the needs of Canadians who need their political leaders to confront the many challenges facing our country at this time.

I am writing this letter to personally request that you attend Parliament on January 25 to conduct the important business of governing the nation, regardless of whether the House of Commons is prorogued.

As we struggle to emerge from the worst recession since the 1930s, Canadians deserve to know that their elected officials in Ottawa are committed to addressing these and the many other issues Canada currently faces.

Sincerely,
(Your Name)
