

What are your Councillors doing to end the Essex County library strike?

We  Libraries

Our community's children, adults and seniors have been shut out of their libraries all summer.

All 14 library branches of Essex County Libraries have been closed since Essex County Council pushed 58 library workers out on strike over a phantom sick time issue that even management admits is not an issue.

Libraries are our community hubs where children come to learn and play, and where adults and seniors connect with each other and with the world beyond.

What are your elected Councillors and Mayors doing to resolve this strike?

Call your elected Essex County Council representatives, listed below, and:

- Ask them why they are forcing library workers to accept a plan that will not save any money and cost more to administer.
- Tell them to move off their sick time position that a neutral third party arbitrator has already rejected.
- Remind them they were elected to represent your interests and tell them to resolve this strike and open our libraries.
